Original publisher: Hampton, Va. : National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Langley Research Center, 1990 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)60329537 Subject: Flight control -- Computer programs. Excerpt: . . . 7. Design Documentation Outline This chapter outlines the contents of the programmer design documentation. The document produced from this outline will be used for the design review; it may also be used later to trace changes to design. This document may also prove to be useful to the programmer as well as the testing team while debugging the code. . . Below is a copy of a design document outline. Note that this is a SUGGESTED outline and may be rearranged or modified by the programmer as desired. However, all points in the outline listed below MUST be addressed in the final design document. I Introduction to Name of your planet a) Top Level Description Should give brief overview of the context of the code (e. g. , simulates the on-board navigational code for a planetary lander, etc.). This should also give a brief view of the organization of your code. b) Comments on Method This subsection should contain any comments that the programmer feels are needed in the context of the philosophy or methods used during the design of the software. Mention should be made of the tools used during design such as teamwork SA, i teamwork SD, etc. II Program Structure a) Description of Program Structure This subsection should contain a design structure description of the software and should be organized with respect to the planned modules to be written, not necessarily the organization...
